

CANADA'S R&D WORKFORCE IN 2014

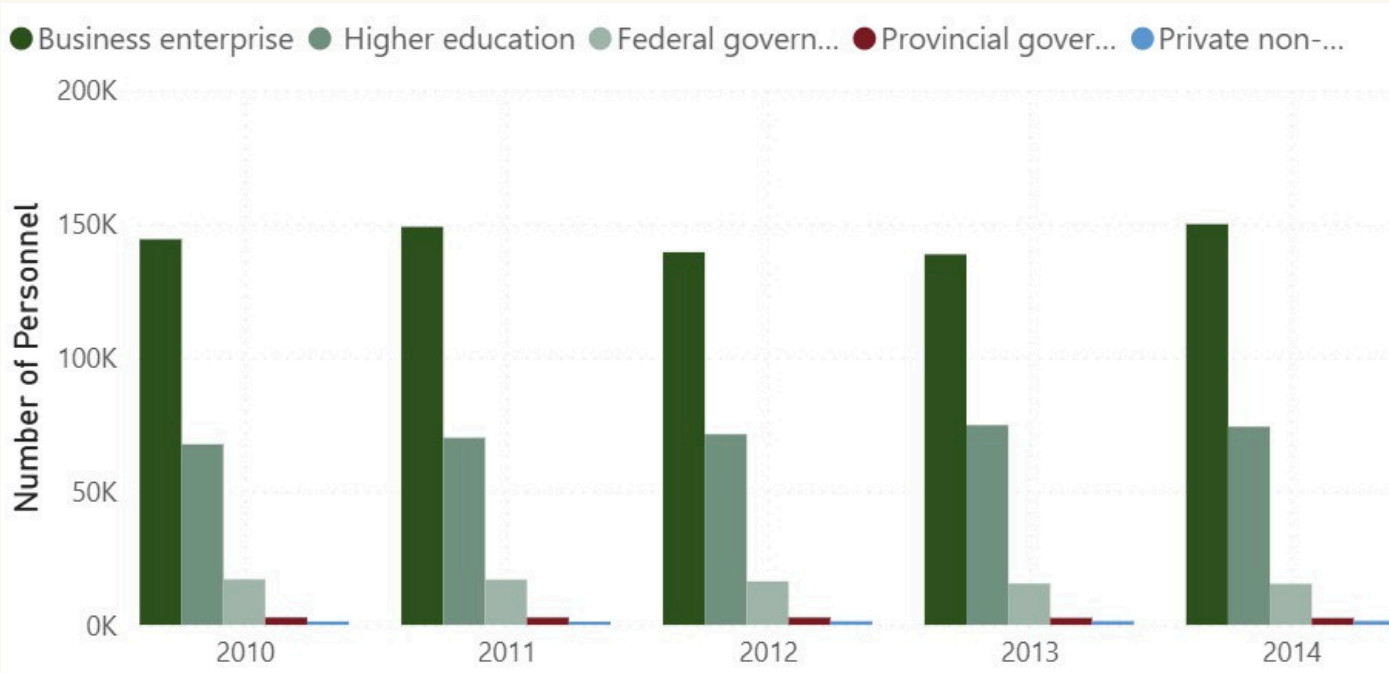

A SECTORAL BREAKDOWN OF RESEARCH PERSONNEL

The infographic highlights Canada’s R&D workforce in 2014, showing how researchers, technicians, and support staff were distributed across key sectors like business, higher education, and government. It provides a quick comparison of where most research activity took place.

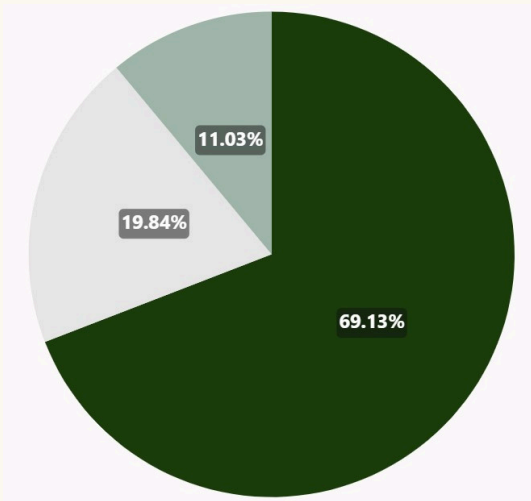

R&D Personnel Summary Table (2014)

Sector	Researchers	Technicians	Support Staff
Federal Government	7770	4190	3420
Provincial Government	1490	670	400
Business Enterprise	98320	35490	16130
Higher Education	60200	7290	6670
Private Nonprofit	600	680	230

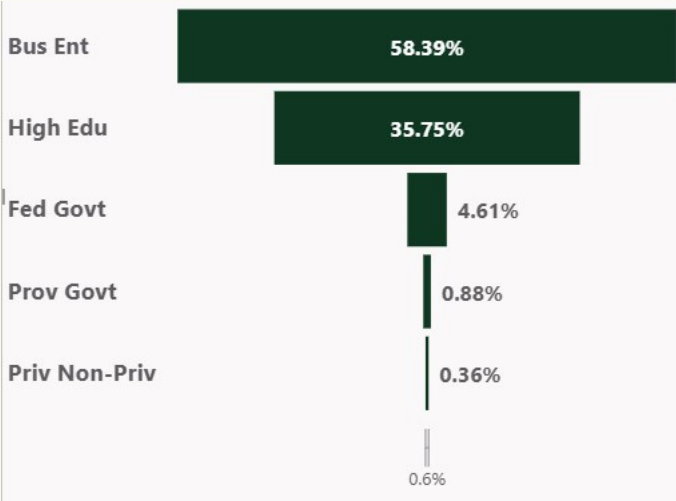

R & D Sector Comparison (2010-2014)

R & D WORKFORCE BREAKDOWN (2014)

R & D WORKFORCE SHARE BY SECTOR (2014)

Researchers	Technicians	Support Staff	Bus Ent	Hlgh Edu	Fed Govt	Prov Govt	Priv Non Profit
168,380	48,330	26,860	98,320	60,200	7,770	1,490	600

CONCLUSION

Canada’s R&D workforce grew overall from 2010–2014, driven mainly by the business and higher-education sectors, with researchers making up the largest share of personnel.